TWO YOUTHS MEET DEATH OFF WHARF

Bert Masters, Age 10, and Graham Clark, 15, in Drowning Fatality at Campbell River

WERE THROWN FROM BICYCLE

Search for Bodies Is Unsuccessful — Will Continue at Daybreak Today

CAMPBELL RIVER, B.C., June 6.—Thrown from a bicycle over the edge of the Government wharf here, Bert Master, ten, and Graham Clark, fifteen, were drowned shortly after 8:30 o'clock tonight. The bodies were not recovered, but provincial police, aided by volunteers, were digging and searching adjacent banks.

According to an eyewitness, both boys were on one bicycle, one on the handlebars, riding down the dock when the wheel struck the guard rail and pitched them into the water. Before help could reach them they had disappeared, swept by the strong tide into deep water.

The search organized immediately after the fatality tonight ended with the approaching darkness. At daybreak tomorrow another effort will be made to find the bodies of the victims of what appears to be usual tragedy this district has seen in many years. Both lads were well known, and their sudden demise in such an unforeseen manner has cast a gloom over the whole of Campbell River.

Bert Masters was the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Masters, and Graham Clark was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clark. Mr. Clark is in charge of the Dominion Government wharf here.

FAILS TO UNSEAT
COMMITTEE MAN

VANCOUVER, June 6.—Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald this afternoon dismissed the appeal in the suit of Edward James Whitaker, dairy farmer of Burnaby, to unseat a committee of adjustment appointed under the Dairy Sauer Adjustment Act for the Lower Fraser Valley.

His appointment was attacked by Mr. Hamilton Read, counsel for Mr. Whitaker, on the ground that eight persons who voted at the meeting which elected him were members of the committee of adjustment and were therefore not eligible to vote.

The prime mover in the proceedings, it was revealed, was Mr. Edward Jones, Dewdney dairy farmer, who acted as secretary of the meeting which elected Mr. Shannon.

Argentine Farmers Will Arrive Here On Grain Mission

OTTAWA, June 6.—Two hundred members of the Agrarian Producers' Union of Argentina will arrive at Victoria, B.C., on Saturday, June 14, to commence a tour of Canada, during which the party will study Canadian methods of handling grain. The tour is under the direction of Mr. Louis J. Skintzaro, official representative of the Argentine Chamber of Commerce in Canada, who resides in Montreal.

Novel Idea On Space Is Enunciated

NOTTINGHAM, England, June 6.—Prof. Albert Einstein, famed for his much-discussed theory of relativity, delivered his first lecture in England tonight, at University College, and informed the audience of scientists he had been working on a new idea regarding space. The idea was this:

"If one considers two elements in space, one compares them so far only as regards size. But there is another element which comes into it, that might give the clue, and it is time: You can also compare those two elements in the matter of direction. Space is holding its revenge."

Apparently, according to his relativity theory, Dr. Einstein said his colleagues were not in agreement with him on certain points, and many of them even thought he was wrong.

"Nevertheless, I have faith in the theory," he said, "in traveling, and although my theory is not finished, I have evidence that, so far as I can judge, the end is near."

TRANSATLANTIC SEVENTH CROSSING

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, June 6.—The Graf Zeppelin rested tonight at her home base at the end of a history-making voyage which had carried her to North and South America, over a portion of Africa, and twice across the equator in nineteen days.

Dodging terrific electrical storms that threatened her with disaster over Southern France, the Graf deftly maneuvered to land within the Victoria, riding for London elections. It falls within the limits of the Nanaimo constituency.

There will therefore be the five wards of the city proper included in the convention, and from each of them there have been elected fifty delegates to represent the body.

The nominations in other parts of the province are going forward.

The basis of distribution will be on the school attendance and the division will not therefore be made until after the returns have been received at the end of the school term of the number attending.

Mark Death Anniversary Of Sir John

TORONTO, June 6.—Standing at the foot of the monument to Sir John A. Macdonald in front of the Provincial Parliament Buildings to-morrow is the leader of the Conservative party Hon. R. B. Bennett, paid tribute to the old chief, and declared it was his highest ambition to model his political career on that of the first Premier of Canada. The Conservative Premier of Ontario, Mr. W. H. Coopers, former warden of New Westminster Penitentiary, is appointed city relief officer at Vancouver.

NOMINATION IN CITY SET FOR JUNE 18

Wards of City Will Meet to Select Conservative Candidate After Visit of Federal Leader

CHOICE OF DELEGATES
ALREADY UNDERTAKEN

The Conservatives of the city of Victoria will nominate their candidate for the forthcoming Dominion elections on the evening of Wednesday, June 18. The convention, which will be presided over by the president of the local executive, Mr. R. A. Wootten, will assemble in the rooms of the party, Campbell Building, and the proceedings are due to open at 8 o'clock.

Col. D. B. Plunkett, who has represented the city in the House of Commons since the resignation of Hon. S. F. Tolmie, returned to Victoria yesterday from Ottawa. It is anticipated that he will be the nominee of the convention when it assembles.

The nominating convention of the party is made up of the members of the central executive of the Conservative party in the city; the members of Parliament, and both Provincial and Municipal, in the city, and the representatives elected from the five wards. In this connection the party will not be included within the Victoria, riding for London elections.

The nominations in other parts of the province are going forward.

The basis of distribution will be on the school attendance and the division will not therefore be made

until after the returns have been received at the end of the school

term of the number attending.

TO BE BASED ON SCHOOL ATTENDANCE

The first distribution of liquor profits to the various municipalities of the province, under the new basis established by amendment to the act last session, will be made early in July. There will be a division of half a million dollars under this new plan.

Formerly a proportion of the profits were earmarked for the purpose of division among the municipalities, but this will be a straight sum of $1,000,000 a year paid in two half yearly sums.

The last distribution for this purpose amounted to about $560,000.

This would leave some $440,000

under the $1,000,000 a year basis, but the Government has taken the position that it will make the division of the amount one year out of the total amount and set aside $500,000 for this initial payment under the system.

The basis of distribution will be on the school attendance and the

division will not therefore be made

until after the returns have been received at the end of the school

term of the number attending.

PRINCETON ALBERT, Sask., June 6.—Preparations for the speaking tour of Premier Mackenzie King are going forward here, and it seems probable that the Prime Minister's itinerary will be decided before long.

While there has been no official announcement yet, it has been stated that the first speech will be delivered at London. At any rate, Mr. King will open in Ontario. Then, it is anticipated, he will go East while Mr. Braden, the opposition leader, is proceeding to the West.

The Prime Minister will be understood, cover the whole country before the date of the election.

Since the death of Hon. James A. Bond, the minority in the Province of Quebec has lacked a Cabinet representative. It has been suggested that it might be George F. Bruneau, ex-member for Brome-Missisquoi, who may be brought into the Government as minister without portfolio.

NATIONALIST PARTY MUST WIN BATTLE

The Northerners, having crossed the Yellow River into Shantung Province, approached Tianjin today. The sound of the artillery firing, as they fought the Nationalists, was plainly heard in the city. The American Consul was said to have urged Americans to leave the city.

In Shanghai, Nationalist officials met to strengthen the financial sinews of war. Nearly two weeks,

Finance Minister Soong telegraphed to Chiang Kai-Shek, leading the Nationalists, in the following

Province, that a speedy victory was imperative. In addition to the civil war, said Soong, the Government had been called upon to deal with nationwide Communistic and bandit depredations and economic distress due to depreciated silver, crop failures and paralyzed business. These, he said, were combined in the gravest menace the Government had faced.

No very radical changes were made from last year's recommendations, one of the most important alterations being the shortening of the season for English partridges. This year's season will open November 15, and Mr. E. L. Tait, president of the association, described this as being, in his opinion, "just two weeks too many." It was pointed out that there had been an abundance of partridges two years ago, but that these birds had been very scarce last season, while coveys this year appeared to be few and far between. It was therefore decided to recommend that the season for 1930 should be from November 8 to 15.

SHOULD OPEN SATURDAYS

It was felt that either possible, or some other kind of game, should open on Saturdays. This season for deer has already been fixed to open on Monday, September 15; but, in recommending that the season for blue grouse should be the same as the deer season, which closes on October 31, the association will ask the Game Commissioner to bring forward the opening date for both deer and grouse to Saturday, September 13.

The association will ask for a further four days on the pheasant season. Last year the season was from October 15 to November 15. This year's recommendation asks that the season open on October 11. The dates recommended for quail will be the same as those for the pheasant season. The association will also ask that the season for willow grouse shall remain closed.

The association will recommend the same as last year in each case if the recommendations of the association are adopted. The limits will be as follows: blue grouse, 5; pheasants, 4; quail, 16; partridge, 6.

QUESTION OF VERMIN

Speaking in connection with the trapping of fur-bearing animals, Mr. W. Gidley, chief game warden, was emphatic in urging that all restrictions should be removed for the south end of the Island. It was both inconsistent and absurd, said Mr. Gidley, to expect to raise game birds and, at the same time, give any measure of protection to vermin such as marten, coon and weasel. The last-named animal, he added, was quite plentiful on the shores of Elk Lake.

In the Old Country, where game preservation was carried out scientifically, there was a bounty for such animals as these, which also extended to cats.

Upon Mr. Gidley's motion it was unanimously decided to request the chief game commissioner that this matter should be looked into and that all restrictions on trapping at the southern end of Vancouver Island should be removed.

BASS REGULATIONS

The situation with regard to the regulations on bass fishing was discussed by the president. Some years ago, he said, Captain S. P. Island, on which is the plentifully stocked St. Mary's Lake, was asked to make recommendations on the bass season. Those recommendations had either been erroneously made or erroneously interpreted by the authorities. The result was that the open season, which should have been in the late summer and fall, had been set from April 1 to July 1, during which season the fish were nesting.

It was a well-known fact, during the spawning season, that the bass would rise almost anywhere which struck the water; that they were not in good eating condition, and that they carried between 5,000 and 20,000 eggs.

Accordingly the association will recommend that the bass season shall commence be closed from April 1 to July 1.

Federal Leader Has Busy Programme on Island And in Vancouver Area

ON R. B. Bennett, leader of the Conservative party, in his coming visit to British Columbia is leaving himself no idle moments. He will arrive in Vancouver, according to schedule, on the morning of Monday, June 16. He will take the ferry steamer to Nanaimo very shortly after that at 10 o'clock.

At Nanaimo the leader will address a noon meeting commanding an audience of 1,000.

A twenty-mile drive to Parksville will afford him the opportunity to address a day meeting there, commencing at 2 o'clock.

To speak in Victoria at 8:30 that evening will require a drive of 100 miles for Mr. Bennett, and he will conclude the day's routine by boarding the night steamer for the Mainland. Victoria, however, will enter another strenuous day's work on Tuesday, although he will not have to travel as far in carrying out his engagements.

He will address a women's meeting, either in the forenoon or during the noon hour. This will be followed in the evening by two meetings, one commencing at 8 o'clock in North Vancouver, and one at 9:30 in the central part of the city.

members that, within the last week, the association had planted 40,000 cutthroat trout eggs in Prospect Lake. The gravel for this operation had been supplied and hauled to the spot free of charge by the municipality.

The secretary was instructed, to co-operate with the Shamrock Council, and to express the thanks of the association for the council's courtesy and co-operation in this matter.

A communication from the Provincial Game Association advised that plans were under way for the holding in Vancouver next September of a big exhibition of game and sports in the Columbia River area. Mr. Patrick, who hoped to organize the exhibition, had stated that there would be live specimens of every kind of game in the province, including bear and cougar.

The Victoria association will continue to co-operate with the parent body of the association, and suggesting at the same time, that the exhibition might very well be held in Victoria, possibly as part of the Autumn show at the Willows.

vestigation, and then rushed at full speed to Chaman.

Police and troops sped to the spot, but were unable to overtake the raiders before they crossed the border into Afghanistan, six miles distant.

It was learned that the kidnapped persons were placed on a sleds and taken to a remote village near Kunchai, about twenty miles southwest of Chaman in Afghan territory, where they spent Wednesday and Thursday nights.

SEEK RELEASE

A Girga tribal gathering of local chiefs was sent to find the raiders, and one of them, Haken Spin Balak, was requested to handle the negotiations. Yesterday he sent a small group to Kunchai, but when he reached the village he was met by a body of Afghan troops in six motor trucks. It was believed the release would be effected shortly.

It was reported that the prisoners have been treated considerably. No motive for the kidnapping has yet been established.

SAFETY RAIDING

Down in the salt raiding country lively affray occurred at Dharamsala, where salt raids have become somewhat of a routine affair. One hundred and sixty-seven National Guardsmen attempted to seize the Government salt posts, but when they failed to do so, they were beaten off in a manner by police. Four persons were sentenced to death tonight for the murder of a policeman during the recent rioting in that city. The Judge who heard the cases was an Indian, N. J. Owadia.

Another line, he mentioned the satisfaction which followed the transfer of the jurisdiction as far as divorce was concerned to the court of the Province of Ontario, instead of having this case in the Senate. The bringing of the subject of the jurisdiction in most of the other provinces removes an annoying feature.

DIVORCE IN ONTARIO

In another line, he mentioned the satisfaction which followed the transfer of the jurisdiction as far as divorce was concerned to the court of the Province of Ontario, instead of having this case in the Senate. The bringing of the subject of the jurisdiction in most of the other provinces removes an annoying feature.

RADIO LEGISLATION

It was to be regretted, he said, that the matter of radio legislation was not introduced into the House during the session, after a report had been brought down by a committee appointed to inquire into the Dunning Budget.

It was a well-known fact, during the Dunning season, that the bars would rise almost anything which struck the water; that they were not in good eating condition, and that they carried between 5,000 and 20,000 eggs.

Accordingly the association will recommend that the bass season shall commence be closed from April 1 to July 1.

ROUGHAGE IS ESSENTIAL IN REDUCING DIETS

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Is Ideal Roughage

If you are following a reducing diet, it is doubly important that you take a regular amount of roughage into the system daily. Most reducing diets do not contain a sufficient amount of roughage. The result is constipation—chief of both health and beauty.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is recommended by many doctors and dietitians because it contains the bulk necessary to insure proper elimination.

Also, because it contains the iron needed to help prevent anemia—another danger in reducing diets.

ALL-BRAN is not fattening. Its bulk sweeps the system clean of poisonous wastes—helping to promote glorious health and beauty.

The easiest way is to eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN in cereal form. Try it! It is delicious with milk or cream. Sprinkle it over cereals, salads and soups. It adds flavor to cooked foods and is equally effective as a dessert.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is served in restaurants, hotels and dining-cars. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

TRANSACTIONS OF BROKERAGE FIRM RELATED

Trial of I.W.C. Solloway and H.M. Mills on Conspiracy Charges Proceeds at Calgary

SEIZED DOCUMENTS ENTERED IN COURT

CALGARY, June 6.—The testimony of Mr. Kenneth Morrison, chartered accountant, was continued at this afternoon's session of the conspiracy trial of I.W.C. Solloway and Harvey M. Mills, stockbrokers.

During the day voluminous documents were poured through the accountant, under direct examination by Mr. George Wynn, M.P., and Mr. Sinclair, K.C., revealing transactions of the house account and short positions. Vancouver Stock Exchange documents were entered during the afternoon.

At the beginning of his testimony earlier in the day, Morrison explained that his investigations into the company's affairs, under the Security Frauds Prevention Act, had been a series of dates selected at random with the company's transactions in a stock picked at random.

NOT FILLED ON EXCHANGE

Evidence that the house trading account of Solloway, Mills & Company, was not filled on the exchange in the short positions of the firm in a large number of stocks and that numerous purchases and sales which had been confirmed to clients had not actually been filled on the Stock Exchange but had been balanced on the house account, constituted the testimony of Mr. Kenneth Morrison.

Further evidence by this witness tended to show that on days when two or more prices prevailed on the exchange in the stocks mentioned, confirmations for the accounts were entered at the advantageous price. In the majority of cases, said Mr. Morrison, no records could be found of excise tax having been paid on orders filled through the house account, but brokerage had

Proud of His Grandsons

R.T.HON. George Lansbury, First Commissioner of Works in the MacDonald Ministry, has been a grandfather many times over, but never has been so happy as over the arrival of these twin grandsons. Lansbury, who has been described as the best-loved M.P. at Westminster, has been prominent in the Socialist movement for two score years. While he is one of the most kindly of radicals, he is adamant when a cause is right. After a few months as a sequel to his support of the women's suffrage movement, as one-time mayor of Poplar and as editor and later manager of The Daily Herald, he has been much in the public eye. Recently he advocated a policy of "colonizing Britain" and cultivating her undeveloped arable land instead of training Britons as overseas emigrants.

generally been paid on stock supposedly purchased for clients.

EXCISE TAX

Witness testified that confirmations for McLeod stock bore notifications that excise tax had been paid on the exchange, but that in fact that the stock had apparently not been purchased on the exchange.

Referring to records of McLeod stock in the company's office in Toronto for May 1, 1928, Mr. Morrison testified that a discrepancy between sales and confirmations existed on that day.

Witness testified regarding confirmations from the Calgary office on the day in question that clients had been charged brokerage on the price of the stock.

Capt. Black returned from Ottawa Thursday night, and this morning was interviewed by friends anxious to test his strength in the Conservative nominating convention on Thursday.

Mr. Sinclair—What was the brokerage on the five shares of McLeod stock? Capt. Black replied on the exchange on May 1?

"Witness—Approximately 3¢.

Mr. Sinclair—And what brokerage did the client Maxwell pay on the confirmations of a purchase of 500 shares of McLeod stock that day.

Mr. Morrison further testified that on June 20, 1928, the firm confirmed to clients purchases of 1,700, and sales of shares of A. P. Consolidated stock, and the company had neither bought nor sold this stock on the Calgary Stock Exchange.

The house account for the day, however, showed a balance of 1,520 shares of A. P. Consolidated.

Mr. Sinclair—"Have you found any record of excise tax having been paid on the 1,700 shares?"

"Witness—No."

Mr. Morrison testified that the records showed the house account was short 17,855 shares, and that this amount had increased considerably by June 29, 1928.

Further testimony was given as to transactions in Mayland stock on July 27, 1928. Confirmations to A. H. Mayland were 1,600 shares bought at a total price, including brokerage of $216.58.

Stock exchange records for the day showed 1,600 sales of Mayland shares, and twenty sales of Mayland. This difference, witness showed, was reconciled by an entry in the house account for the day for 1,000 shares sold, and 100 shares bought on the Toronto exchange.

ADDITIONAL DOCUMENTS

Mr. Sinclair, Crown counsel, explained to Mr. Justice Ives, at the opening of the afternoon hearing, that to continue his examination of Mr. Morrison, he found it necessary to enter additional documents as exhibits in the case, namely, those seized in the Vancouver office of the accused's company, and Vancouver Stock Exchange records.

Mr. J. Stuart Simpson of the firm of Harvey & Morrison, chartered accountants retained by the Crown, took the stand and stated that he had come to Vancouver to represent in the branch of Solloway, Mills & Company, Limited, where these cartons of documents were seized.

Witness identified these documents as from the Vancouver office. They had been presented to the court by Police Magistrate H. C. Shaw, of Victoria, early in the week, as having been handed to him by police officers, and retained by him since that time.

Mr. Sinclair entered the cartons as exhibits on the understanding that at a later date records and books contained in these would be offered as exhibits with their own numbers.

RECORDS OF EXCHANGE

Mr. Albert Sprangre, secretary of the Vancouver Stock Exchange, and the chief of the clerical staff, produced records of transactions of the exchange between May 1, 1928 and the latter part of 1929. He knew no better records of daily transactions.

He also tendered clearing house records made up by brokers in triplicate and verified with the transaction books of other brokers present. Witness also offered a number of packages of floor slips of brokers for different dates selected by him at the request of Mr. Morrison.

FOREIGNERS TAKE REFUGE

CHANGSHA IN HANDS OF COMMUNISTS, AND FOREIGN INTERESTS ARE MENACED

Opponents, while differing in view, are united against Chiang Kai-Shek

(By REGINALD SWETLAND) (Copyright, 1930, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service)

HANKOW, China, June 6.—Foreigners residing in Changsha, Hunan Province Communist centre, have taken to the foreign-protected island just across the river from Changsha, where they will remain until the Communists' attack is less threatening. This is a temporary precaution, due to the fact that the Nationalist army, under General Ho Chien, has surrendered the city without firing a shot, and the army is retreating seventy or eighty miles northward to Yochow, permitting the so-called Communist troops, under General Chang Fah-Kwei and his Kuang allies, to take over control.

NO CAUSE FOR ALARM

While the situation has been charged with danger, it is not considered dangerous. American Minister Nelson T. Johnson, who arrived here Wednesday morning, told The Chicago Daily News correspondent that there is at present no cause for alarm regarding either American lives or property.

Mr. Johnson expects to remain here a day or two and then go to Kukiang, which he considered the next danger spot, as the revolt against Nanking control spreads like fire down the Yangtze Valley.

Changsha today presents a strange military appearance with the presence of two British Admirals and one American Admiral Craven about to reach there on the flagship Luzon.

The Nationalist surrender of Changsha comes as a distinct shock, although Nationalist officials here explain that it is a tactical step often adopted in modern warfare and that the Communists are confronting the main forces of General Feng Yu-Hsiang without support in the rear.

BOATS SEIZED

Ho Chien's troops have seized all available junks and native launches at Changsha which, overloaded with troops and field pieces and escorted by British naval vessels, passed through the intricate channels of Tungting Lake Wednesday, arriving at Yochow, where they are supposed to be putting up a pretence of fighting, though the Communist "Iron-sides" are making their way inland towards Kukiang, perhaps avoiding Hankow in an effort to cut the Yangtze River, thereby isolating the Nationalist armies from their Nanking base.

The so-called Communist armies, which are sweeping northeast towards Nanking and other river ports, are of various affiliations and include all who are united in opposition to the Chinese Kai-Shek regime. Hankow residents fear that the Yangtze situation is grave.

PRESENTATION TO RETIRING CHIEF

C.M.A. Gathering at Toronto Makes Gift of Silver Bowl to Mr. R. J. Hutchings, of Calgary

TORONTO, June 6.—The annual meeting of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association closed with a general gathering of the delegates for a banquet last night. The function, presided over by the newly-elected president, Elmer Davis of Kingston, Ont., presided, was followed by a presentation of a silver bowl to Mr. R. J. Hutchings, of Calgary, Alta., the retiring president, in appreciation of his services.

Mr. Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railways, was the guest speaker, dealing with classical and cultural education.

In his introductory remarks, Mr. Davis declared that so far as trade and industry in Canada were concerned, the present "shape-up" was but a stage setting for the great advance. The watchword of the present year, he said, should be "economical production."

WILL INVESTIGATE STUDENTS' HABITS

CAMBRIDGE, Eng., June 6.—Cambridge University authorities have decided to make an inquiry into the habits of undergraduates as an outgrowth of revelations of excesses in which Douglas Newton Potts, an undergraduate, is reported to have been engaged long before the shooting tragedy here early this week.

Potts committed suicide after shooting and killing a tutor, Dr. A. F. R. Wollaston, noted mountaineer and explorer, and Detective-Sergeant Willis of the Cambridge police.

It has been revealed that Potts had surrounded himself with an atmosphere of false romance, which he initiated his friends should share, and that he had been known in the little village of Mildenhall, about thirty miles from Cambridge, which he frequently visited as the "Prince of Lorraine."

The villagers said that he called himself the "Prince of Lorraine," and pretended that one of his friends was the heir to the Russian throne.

One report which came to the police for investigation since the tragedy, was that he was secretly married in London several months ago. It was gathered from various sources that his girl had played a prominent part in the last days of his life. He was stated to have told one girl in Mildenhall that he had left Cambridge for London because he could not face his debts.

BUTTER IMPORTATIONS

One aspect in which Mr. Dunning's Budget has worked a real hardship on the dairy industry of Canada is in postponing raising the duty on New Zealand butter until October next. The country is now being flooded with the imported product and local dairymen are suffering in proportion. The market is demoralized, not only for the British Columbia producers but also for those of the Prairie Provinces. In the latter there are carloads of butter waiting shipment, but no offers for them. The New Zealand product which is coming in at a greater rate than ever before at this time of the year, presumably with the idea of making all the profits possible before the tariff is increased, is glutting the market and making it more difficult than ever before to dispose of the domestic product.

The principal creameries in this part of British Columbia have appealed directly to Mr. Mackenzie King to take action. The dumping duty could be applied to relieve the situation and prevent any further demoralization of the market. Where a situation becomes as serious as it is today the Government has an undoubted obligation to the industry because it was governmental action which created the present problem.

RISING MEAT PRICES

When the price of a commodity rises uninformed opinion usually attributes the movement to the desire of those interested to make larger profits. Such is not always, perhaps very seldom the case. Meat prices in Canada have been rising steadily for some time past. In many grades the prices for what is regarded as a necessity of life are higher than in the inflated war period. Meats are probably more consumed today than they used to be because of advancing standards of living, and the price is going up all the time.

The main cause put forward for the rising prices is a shrinkage in supply. It is not clear at all why there should be such a shrinkage. No doubt there are many other economic causes which explain the gradual raising of prices for all kinds of meats, but it is self-evident that supply is below the normal volume, or that it has not kept pace with population growth. Railway traffic shows that 6,000 fewer carloads have been moved this year in the corresponding period of 1929. This would indicate that the public may be prepared to pay even more than they are paying now for their meats.

The situation that has arisen causes The Montreal Gazette to question the utility of Federal and Provincial Departments of Agriculture, all of which have branches dealing with the livestock interests. Not one of these departments, it says, seems to have developed the machinery for dealing constructively and effectively with a situation such as has now arisen. In other words, those departments do not function so as to anticipate either a shortage or a surplus in the meat supply. They do nothing towards adjustment in the case of either condition arising. It is, therefore, pertinent to ask what are the functions of Departments of Agriculture in protecting the interests of the consumer and the producer? Where there is a meat shortage they could render an eminent public service. Under the existing condition of high prices the producer continues to complain and the consumer is finding it harder all the time to meet the family budget. Where does the remedy lie if not in Departments of Agriculture, the main function of which should be to foster an adequate supply whatever the normal demand?

THE HARD LOT OF TAX COLLECTORS

It seems to be becoming a proved axiom in our political structure that the thoughts of tax collectors run in a narrow groove. In effect, the real tax collectors are those set up with governing powers. They decree what the tax shall be and appoint their subordinates to gather them into the treasury. The latter have no concern whatever about the ability of the people to pay. They have a duty and are adamant in its performance. There is no elasticity in their methods; the instalment system, which has come to be a recognized factor in business life, has no place in their lexicon. The pound of flesh they are after, and that they will have, or know the reason why.

Perhaps there is something to be said in favor of tax collectors which taxpayers have so far failed to recognize. It appears they have sufferings of their own, even though they may escape the incidence of the inflictions it is their duty to impose on others. The London Times rises in their defence in a cavalier vein. Some of them, are housed in offices that are "drab, disquieting, and in some cases positively unhealthy." The Times says that perhaps there are men, "in whom the old untaxed Adam still lingers unsubdued" who hear with a certain satisfaction that tax collectors too have something to suffer. There will always be opponents of luxury for tax collectors. It is perhaps asking too much of those who suffer to stand the sight of "palatial offices furnished up for their undoing and to endure the extra torment of seeing the rack inlaid with mother-of-pearl."

The Times, however, puts up a case for more luxury for tax collectors. It points out that men who are thoroughly unhappy themselves "are the ones most likely to be cruel to others, as in the well-known case of Ivan the Terrible, and that much of man's inhumanity to man is the product, as a poet has well sung, of

"a mind

Too unhappy to be kind."

The Times, indeed, suggests that the hierarchy of the Treasury and Inland Revenue should be encouraged "to smoke and drink at their work and to have flowers on their desks and pleasant pictures of the nicer animals on their walls. Not only ought all their offices to be agreeable and elevating but they should be encouraged to stay out of them a great deal, taking holiday and mixing with the common run of taxpayers and learning how to know and love mankind, instead of damaging their health by the repeated scrutiny of documents to see exactly which individuals have or have not paid." Such a course of treatment prescribed for tax collectors might well benefit the human race by injecting humanity into the tax collecting industry. After all, the long-suffering public have at least the privilege of reminding officials of that saying of Francis Bacon that "the nobler a soul is the more objects of compassion it hath."

THE UNEMPLOYMENT ISSUE

Mr. Stanley Baldwin, Great Britain's Conservative leader, says that unemployment still dominates the British political situation. Under Socialist rule there are now twice as many women out of work as before Mr. Ramsay MacDonald took office. The total figures for unemployment have increased by 600,000. This has happened, Mr. Baldwin says, because the Laborites will not leave industry alone. Their Budget has made Great Britain the one country that has again started an upward trend in taxation, "which has knocked the remaining bit of hope and confidence out of the last business man who had it." By their actions and their words Mr. MacDonald and his followers have thrown the industrial community into a state of uncertainty and have perpetuated the problem of unemployment, the toll of which, Mr. Baldwin believes, will go up, and up, and up.

The Conservative policy to fight unemployment and other industrial evils that now afflict Great Britain is defined by Mr. Baldwin as drastic economy, safeguarding and free trade in the Empire. These three things, he says, hang on one another. The British Empire in his opinion has to visualize itself more and more and act more and more as a unit.

In a letter to The London Times on the eve of last May 24, Mrs. Edith M. Fleet quotes from The Colonist of October 20, 1916, an excerpt dealing with the death of her father, Mr. William John Macdonald, who was the first Senator chosen for British Columbia and who attended the Senate at Ottawa for forty-seven years. The Colonist at the time of his death said: "He was the promoter of Empire Day and it was owing to him that Canada celebrates as a perpetual holiday the birthday of the late Queen Victoria. On the occasion of her Diamond Jubilee in 1897, Senator Macdonald introduced the Bill to that end, which was adopted by the Senate and became the law of the land in Canada. For this he was thanked by Royalty."

The victor in the Central Nottingham by-election says: "The country is disillusioned by the profligacy of the Socialist Government, which has completely failed to keep its promises. It is the Government that keeps its promise promises that secures the longest tenure of power.

THE CHANGELING

Beyond your body's closeness
Your soul strays.
Seeking the magic of the far-off days
Among the dances on the polished floor.
Or the sunbeams through an open door,
Or the haystacks out of country roads.
Caught your fluttering hands.
I kissed your mouth;
But, restless, out of still and secret lands
Drift all the lovely languors of the south.
You are the conquering child, uncrowned, unclaimed;

AFFABLE NAPOLEON

Amongst the old documents just placed on public view in the Record Office is the master roll of H.M.S. "Napoleonic," 1815, open at the page on which "General" Napoleon Bonaparte and his entourage are entered. It is interesting to recall that Captain Maitland wrote that during the three weeks he was on his ship Napoleon was extremely affable and never allowed a captious or fretful expression to escape him. He was always ready to talk and could be retired at half-past eight and did not rise until the corresponding hour in the morning, he fell asleep during the day while reading a life of Washington and the Ossian's poems he had with him. His personal magnetism was felt by the sailors, whom he charmed, though he did no more than return salutes. —"The Rambler" in The Daily Mirror.

I can tell where my own shoe pinches me; and you must not think, sir, to catch old birds with chaff—servantes.

Note and Comment

By R. S. D.

"The lights are weak.
Mine eyes are dim.
I cannot see to read this hymn."

One of three letters we received this morning reminded us of an old story of the days when money was scarce and the hymn books used in public worship were scarce in most parts of Canada. In those days it therefore was the custom for leaders in religious services to read over one verse at a time and for the choir to lead and the congregation to sing in the hymn.

It was gratifying to learn that a person responded who were eligible to register.

THE PRICE OF WATER

Sir.—Re the very interesting letter by Mr. A. Fleischer in Wednesday's Colonist—the principal reason why people don't grow vegetables for home consumption in the city of Victoria, is the price paid for water.

It is Bay or Saanich, where water is cheaper, probably it might come out.

I know quite a few people who give up Summer lawns and gardening solely because of their water bills. The boulevards get plenty of water simply because the tax bill must be paid. Personally, I think the price of water should be halved for at least four months during the dry season.

CONCERT PARTY OF DAUNTLESS MAKE FRIENDS

Crowded Auditorium Enjoys Efforts of Naval Entertainers in Varied Programme

MUSICAL COMEDY HIGHLY DIVERTING

There is a bit of a song in an old-time musical comedy, "The Geisha," which elaborates on the fact that "Jack's the boy for work, and Jack's the boy for play"; a number of the "Jack Boys" proved it last night both ways, when they demonstrated by their play that they had worked mighty hard to achieve the proficiency they displayed in amusing an audience which filled every seat in the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium.

The concert party from H.M.S. Dauntless, visiting Esquimalt on a cruise in the Pacific, sang, joked and danced themselves into favor long before the curtain rose on the big event of the evening, a musical comedy entitled "The Musical Lawyer" which proved a smash, and which each character sang his lines, introducing old songs here and there; the judge, prosecutor, lawyers and policemen all singing their say in the medium of the whole, concluding with the entire cast singing "Good Night."

The programme was a diversified one, with a wide appeal, and its successful carrying out a tribute to the versatility of the performers, and the energy of a stage manager who kept everything moving smoothly. While the different items were all of a high excellence, the work of several entities them to especial mention. The comedy work and patter of A.E. Simpkins, who also was the leader of an excellent twenty-piece band, was of a high order. A.E. Leary was appreciated with his interpretations of musical selections on that fine old instrument, the dulcimer; J. C. Pearce danced the hornpipe as only a sailor could; Bert Bond sang "The Horn Gospel" in fine voice, and several violin selections found favor with the audience.

The performance, which was put on by the ship's company for the benefit of the Navy League, was attended by prominent members of the local branch, among them being the president, Mr. P. F. Curtis, Col. W. G. Kirby and Captain MacLennan.

The concert party decorated the hall with flags and bunting from the ship, spending the greater part of two days in completing arrangements for the evening's entertainment, which was fully enjoyed by all attending.

Overture: the band; opening chorus: The Dauntless; P.O. March; comic songs: A.B. Peary, sailor's hornpipe; C.P.O. Jolliffe, comedy; S.Y. P. Walker, song; P.O. Raymond, song; C.P.O.C.K. Jolliffe, Ldg. Ck. Breton, Ck. Giblin, A.B. Barrett, Cn. Geary, The Melody Five; and Peary, sailor's hornpipe; Lauder, and Pearce, sailor's hornpipe; Lieutenant Bond, songs: A.B. Leary, song and music; S.Y. P. Walker, songs; Marine Lauder, monologue; God Save the King. The officers of the Dauntless concert party are: Lieutenant Commander A. W. Williams, stage manager; V. Williams, M.A.; pianist, W. Brown, O.A.; lighting effects, F. Bell, P.O.

Ask No Questions!

By BELDON DUFF

(Copyright, 1930, by North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.)

Annanas West, against the advice of John Diamond, owner of a New York newspaper, and Alva Cropper, managing editor, had moved into a house in a place known as Bride's House, 14 Commercial Street. Several previous tenants have died there since Dracula, a hideously disguised man in uniform specified that no matter what happened he must ask no questions. Annanas never asked him any questions. The last tenant, Annanas, perished in a fire which had broken out in his room. He was a widower, a weaver, dressed in a tattered suit, a wedding dress and other bridal finery. The last time he was seen was in the barn. Furthermore, the coffin in the barn has been neatly filled in by unknown hands. Despite his efforts to get Miss West to leave, she remains at the old house. Dracula, a savage station, at night. And she finds Otto the barn, murdered. And close beside him lies the body of a woman, dressed in a white gown and a white shawl.

CHAPTER VI

"That's a fine horse you're riding," said Cranson. An appreciative hand stroked the silken flank. "Must come in for good service."

A word of praise for one of her horses always touched the right chord in Miss West's heart. "Blue Bullet is three times a ribbon winner. He's one of the best polo ponies that ever went a full chuck."

"Blood will tell," observed the veterinarian. "It tells in a horse and its tells in a human being. I gazed upward to the figure of the straight young rider, and once more the fanatic gleam returned to his eyes. "I will surely go with thee; notwithstanding the journey that the stallion has not been for thine honor; for the Lord shall save Silera into thy hand a woman."

"Your pupil, a student of the Bible, aren't you, Dr. Cranson?" Thanks to Abby's training, Miss West was not unfamiliar with the Book herself.

"Yes, yes," came the mumbled reply. "I diligently keep the commandments of the Lord, my God; and His temple, and His statutes. See! He hath commanded."

The girl said his seal did him credit. She was not quite sure that she spoke the truth.

"And thou shalt do that which is right and good in the sight of the Lord," he told her, and there was a quiver of intensity in the look which accompanied his words. To cast out thine enemies before Thee—Ah, with a wave of the hand and a ludicrous change of tone, "here we are."

So absorbed was Miss West in her strange companion that, until he called her attention to the fact, she had not even noticed that he stood before the gate of Bride's House.

With a start that had in it both surprise and a vague uneasiness, she stared up at the dimly curtailed windows, the mellowed roofs, the staggering red-brick chimneys. "How," was her observation, as she slid from the saddle and hooked her arms about Blue Bullet's bridle. "I hope you are not one of those foolish people who are afraid to come here."

The veterinarian had his hands on the white-picket fence. "Why should I?" His voice sounded as reverent as though they were speaking before a church altar. "It was not when this old place held for me all that was most sweet and beautiful." And after a pause, "In the morning, it flourished and grew up; in the evening, it is cut down and withereth. Teach us, O Lord, the number of days, that we may apply our hearts to wisdom. Allow me. He had opened the gate and was waiting for her to precede him to the house where Abby stood, with her young mistress was wont to call "the pains and catechism-look." All resigned to greet the latest addition to the queer characters of Hades Crossing seemed to be pleased.

Before they had visited half the stalls in the white barn Miss West was convinced that the reputation Noah Peabody had given Dr. Derek Cranson, of being the best veterinary for miles around, was not exaggerated. The little man knew all there was to know about equine breeding over a 1½ foot, or handling a mouth!

"I chafed under too severe a load. I was no longer the pathetic little tarred tramp but a man of position—a doctor ministering to the sick. Even though his patients were only horses, his touch was as professional as that of an established medic in one of the big cities."

Dracula, when he had been formally introduced to him, Derek Cranson spoke with little enthusiasm: one of the Stamboul Blacks, a cross between the fleet-footed wild horse of our Western prairies,

Threatened Strike Of Students Does Not Materialize

KINGSTON, Ont., June 6.—Wiser heads prevailed in the planning and the threatened strike of the students of the Kingston Collegiate Institute did not materialize.

Yesterday afternoon the students held a mass meeting in protest over the action of the management committee in asking for the resignation of Mr. J. W. Kelly, science teacher, and appointing a man in his place. The students decided to strike this morning.

Fifteen minutes before school time the students decided to go to class and in the meantime appoint a small committee to ask the board of education for a hearing.

Mr. Kelly resigned when differences arose with Principal Danby.

Miss West's reply to this was an absent-minded expression of relief. If anything went wrong with one of the ponies she could run over and get hit.

"You mustn't do that," he hastened to tell her. "You must never go any farther than the fence of your south pasture. A swamp's in them woods, quickands. Two of Mr. Runnels' ponies horses lost there once. Mirad before you could say 'Jack Robinson. They died slow death—suffocated tight before our eyes."

"Horrible!" cried the girl. And with the picture of those mired horses in her mind as if she had been present when they were sucked to their doom. "Tell me! Is there any truth in the rumor that a curse of some sort rests on that house?"

The veterinarian gave her a peculiar sidelong glance. "I dunno what you mean," he mumbled. "Folks hereabouts don't ask questions concerning Bride's House. But seeing you're a stranger and a gal at that, I think I ought to warn you. Olt out—git out now while you've got the chance. Women go mad on this farm—they go mad and kill themselves."

THE fact that many communions which do not ordinarily follow the church calendar are this year observing the 1900th anniversary of the death and resurrection of Christ and the outpouring of the Holy Spirit would seem to indicate that never before in the history of the modern church has attention been so generally focussed upon these events and their meaning.

Smith Big Threat in British Open

By AL DEMAREE (Former Pitcher, New York Giants)

Horace Smith, that striking young right-hander from Joplin, Mo., has never been given a more sincere compliment than one I heard Hagen pay him one day last year. "That young fellow is a pro," said Walter, "but he is at heart more of a real amateur than nine out of ten of the so-called 'simon pure'."

The 21-year-old Smith, who came to defend his British Open title this year, will show the British some real sharp-shooting.

He may not win, but as a betting proposition I'll take him and Bobby Jones against the field.

Smith is still a big, unspoiled youngster and not a bit awfully headed over the miraculous success he had two years.

Last year he made $30,000 in prizes and exhibitions and he had $30,000 of these big, round, American dollars salted away in a bank in Joplin, Mo.

In conclusion, here's a Smith tip: Last summer, I asked him to tip me off on the golfers he thought best, so I could offer successfully playing all kinds of iron shots.

"Straighten your left arm as you take the club up," he said. "Don't let it bend more than you can help."

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON

Palmer Peas Has Been Arrested 1,001 Times.—At the age of 93, Palmer Peas, a negro preacher of Atlanta, Georgia, is the most frequently arrested individual in the world. He has recently been arrested for the first time, and the total of the time served by him for drunkenness has been computed to aggregate two weeks.

One Gallon of Sand, Water and Cement Make One Gallon of Cement.—The quantity of concrete mixture is less than the sum total of its constituents, because the fine aggregate fills the voids in the coarser ingredients which go into the making of the mixture. In the ready product all the voids in one class of material are filled with the particles of the smaller material.

Officials Named for Colonist Bicycle Race

Alderman James Adam to Supervise Big Event—List of Entries Growing Fast—Record Crowd Expected to Watch Classic

Arrangements for The Colonist eighth annual bicycle road race, to be staged next Friday, are nearing completion. Entries must be in by 6 o'clock Tuesday evening, for the struggle through hard training and determination to keep The Colonist Out at home for another year. Entries are piling up fast and although it is impossible to gain an estimate of numbers, yet the total promises to be greater than ever before. Prominent Victoria business men have been approached by the committee to act as officials in various capacities. Police co-operation, which has been invaluable in previous years, is again promised in full measure. Through the courtesy of A. H. Cowlishaw all riders will be given a free swim in the Crystal Gardens immediately following the race.

The officials follow: Honorary Judge, Mayor Herbert Ancombe.

Judges—Alfred Carmichael, president of the Rotary Club; G. H. Stevens, president of the Kiwanis Club; F. Burton, president of the gyro Club; Police Commissioner W. E. Staneland, J. L. Tait and A. T. Stewart.

Timekeepers—W. Duncan, of Mitchell & Duncan, Limited; J. Wenger, of Wengers, Limited; F. W. Francis, of F. W. Francis, Jewelers; Representative of W. H. Wilker, Jeweler, and W. F. Maguire, secretary of the Y.M.C.A.

Official handicapper, J. Hancock, Official announcer, S. Thomas, Starter, Chief of Police John F. Price, Captain Cox and R. W. Robinson, Supervisor, Alderman James Adam.

Hundreds of interested spectators gathered last year at the corner of Quadra at Kings Road, despite a heavy drizzle of rain. This year, judging by the interest evinced already, it is expected that an even greater number will be present. Every detail possible to secure the maximum success of the race is being attended to and it only remains for prospective riders to cooperate with early entries to render this an outstanding epic in bicycling history.

FINAL STANDINGS

The final standings of the four competing schools were as follows:

University School, twenty-two points.

Brentwood College, twenty points.

Victoria High School, fourteen points.

Oak Bay High School, five points.

With victories over Dr. Karl Sappolis, Cleveland physician, and Charlie Hansen, Seattle grappler, Johnny Freberg, Tacoma Swede, will be full of confidence that he will add the scalp of Bob Kruse, of Portland, in the eight-round main event at the Tillicum gym tonight. Freberg is making his first appearance before the local fans and his exploits will be watched with plenty of interest.

The first bout will get open to all senior institutions throughout Victoria and district, was an overwhelming success from every standpoint. The crowd was in perfect condition and times were exceptionally good. As the select athletes from each school were competing in each race provided the large crowd with a thrill after thrill. Three of the events were so close that it took several moments for the judges to decide the winner. Impartiality reigned throughout, and when the decisions were announced not a murmur came from the respective school sections and each will be out to settle the dispute.

According to local matchmakers, Freberg is lucky to have Kruse as an opponent as the latter was supposed to sail for the Antipodes on the 1st of July. He will be a good entertainment for the fans, the referee called the bout a draw. The decision was well received by those present as neither seemed to have the edge.

Freberg and Kruse met some time ago in the States, and after a good race in the final of the century dash. He finished about eight feet in front of the "Rocky" Brooks, Victoria. Both school fans made a noise when the bell rang, but Kruse's only defense before Victoria fans was at the hands of "Dynamite" Gus Sonnenberg, world's champion, and "Strangler" Lewis, former monarch of the mat game.

BROOKS FAVORITE

Brooks' last two victories across the border places him a favorite over his Rose City opponent. Following tonight's match, Brooks will leave for the Northwestern States where he will appear in Olympia, Washington, on June 9, and Tacoma on June 10. The local grappler is expected to take on opponents in the various cities as far south as Portland.

Irish Open Golf Title Captured by Charles Whitcombe

should be powerful contenders this year. The college has a keen lot of youngsters fighting for places on the three senior and three junior crews. Both separate crews are working out in the fours, and Mr. Ingram Hope, who is coaching the boys, is expected to have a hard task picking out the final crews. Brentwood College will also have senior and junior doubles entries and senior and junior juries.

Brentwood Bay, where the regatta will be held, is one of the finest sheets of water on the coast for such an event. The bay is well protected and seldom too choppy for rowing.

Through the courtesy of the Brentwood College, all racing boats will be quartered at the college. Outside crews are expected to arrive two or three days before the meet gets under way in order to study the conditions and map out their plans.

Strong Vancouver and Portland squads will again be on hand. The Vancouver Club last year grabbed off the major share of the silverware, but this year things are expected to be different.

The local J.B.A.A. has a flock of youngsters coming along in grand style, and Veteran Dan O'Sullivan has many candidates for the different positions. His senior and junior four crews are making great progress, and the blue and white officials are expecting big things from them. The doubles crews are also going strong. J.B.A.A. will also have strong contenders to fight for the singles championship.

LA BOULIE, France, June 6.—George von Elm, United States, today won the French amateur golf championship, defeating R. G. Morrison of England, 9 up to 8 to play in the final. The final match he never won was due to his loss of hearing, finishing the first eight holes with an advantage of five holes over his opponent. Von Elm had a total of 70 strokes for the first eighteen holes.

Von Elm's golf was so good experts suggested even Bobby Jones would have had to hustle to keep pace with him. He negotiated the first nine holes in the afternoon in 34 strokes. His putting was amazing to the gallery, and the other departments of his game were high class.

Morrison played par golf but, in the face of Von Elm's superb performance, had no chance.

A LITTLE BIGGER

- A LITTLE BETTER

You get more WAKEFIELD for the same money compared with strictly high grade pipe tobaccos. This is, of course, important but the main argument is its quality. It's got a characteristic flavor that you'll like. It is a flake tobacco that draws freely, burns evenly and gives off an aroma that makes a pipe smoker sit up and enquire. The WAKEFIELD package is a little bigger, it's true, but we agree with you that the main argument is that it is a little better.

SUCCESSES OBTAINED

Both Scotland and England concluded their Canadian tour with great credit, the former country with a shade better average in the matter of goals. For every five scored by them only one was recorded against them, but Wales, while engaging in only fifteen games, surpassed both the previous averages by a record margin of 12 goals—an average of 1.2 goals per game.

NEW HIGH SCHOOL OPENS

HON. JOSHUA HINCHLiffe PER-FORMS CEREMONY FOR
COMOX INSTITUTION

Praise Given to Principle of School
Consolidation by Mr. James
Carthews Consolidation

COMOX, June 6.—To enable the individual to make the most out of life should be the primary and ultimate aim of education, was the message of Hon. Joshua Hinckliffe, Minister of Education, given, more particularly, for the benefit of the pupils at the opening of the new high school here on Thursday afternoon.

Trustee Samuel McLeod opened the proceedings.

Mr. James Carthews, who for twenty-four years has been secretary of the school board, informed the gathering that the high school had been badly needed for a long time, and referred to the cramped conditions when making use of rooms in the past office for the high school classes, but the new building, he said, was evidence that everything comes to him who waits, he said. He praised the construction for which Mrs. C. J. M. Phelps and Mr. Foskett, on the suggestion of Inspector Patterson, had been largely responsible, and pointed to the assembled school and new buildings as worthy of the undertaking. The building was composed of nothing but the best of materials and labor, all of which, as far as possible, had been obtained locally.

In welcoming Dr. G. K. MacNaughton, M.P.P., Trustee Taylor thanked the local member for his kind and courteous help obtained through the Department of Education during the construction period.

Mrs. Falbairn, of the Comox School Board, in welcoming the visiting trustees, was very glad to see Mr. E. F. Thomas, secretary of the county and town board, present and made some references to the growth of the district. Dr. MacNaughton congratulated the taxpayers of Comox as represented by the school trustees on their willingness to undertake the responsibility of the added cost of education. He referred to Comox as a progressive district of the province, and sincerely appreciated the kindness of Mr. Hinckliffe, who in spite of the extra pressure on his time, owing to his preparations for his forthcoming absence from the province, had consented to come to Comox for the occasion. He also conveyed to the trustees the regrets of Mrs. MacNaughton, chairman of the Cumberland School Board, at being unable to be present.

Selling Pressure Carries Stocks Almost Steadily Downward on N.Y. Market

NEW YORK. June 6.—Selling pressure, carried stocks almost steadily downward today. So successfully did the bear forces maintain its control of the price movement that final quotations were generally the lowest of the day, and more than a score of issues went to new minimums for the year.

Volume of trading remained small and sales totaled only 2,414,890 shares.

With such leading shares as U.S. Steel, General Electric, American Can, American Telephone & Telegraph, Westinghouse and Consolidated Gas manifesting little resistance to the declining tendencies, selling elsewhere was accelerated and the losses of 1 to 4 points in the stocks mentioned were exceeded by a large number of more volatile issues. Reductions in Auburn, C. I. C., Vinaid, and Canadian Tobacco tumbled 5 to 8.

Stocks selling down to near 1930 low levels included Columbian Graphophone, St. Paul Preferred, Erie, Lima Locomotive, U.S. Industrial Alcohol, American Rolling Mill, Simons, American Radiator & Standard, International Mercantile Marine and Firestone Preferred. There was little activity in the foreign exchanges.

Two Liberty bond issues went into high ground for the post of today's trading in the listed bond market.

The domestic section maintained the firm trend, but suffered from dullness. Stock privilege issues were jumpy, with the trend downward.

St. John Ervine, the English critic, said at a dinner party in New York: "I like America, and I like New York, too; but I think that you New Yorkers suffer a little from—well, to be frank, a swelled head. You think that the rest of the country looks up to you more than it really does." A New Yorker visited the Bad Lands last Winter. He had a letter of introduction to a rich native. After he'd presented his letter he said to the native in a patronizing way: "I guess you don't get many New Yorkers out here?" "Now," said the native, "rattle-snakes is our chief plague."

Truth is stranger than fiction because there is less of it on the market.

LARGE FATALITY LIST IN ONTARIO

Summer Heat Wave, Drownings and Automobile Smashed Take Toll of Lives in Eastern Province

TORONTO, Ont., June 6.—With the advent of a Summer heat wave throughout Ontario yesterday, a large fatality list was recorded as citizens endeavored to find relief from the scorching sun. Ten persons died violently. Five of them drowned, one a child, the result of the heat. Automobile accidents claimed three lives as people sought the open, and trains accounted for two.

Three of the drownings occurred at Windsor. Two of them were boys, Willie Davis, nine, and Russell Drummard, ten, who were drowned in a pond. An unidentified man, supposedly crazed by the heat, jumped from a Walkerville ferry.

Mortley Williams, Jr., fifteen, Till-senburg, was drowned while bathing, and Georges Brooks, of Brantford, became a drowning victim when his motor car plunged into an embankment and into the Grand River.

Baloria Hada, thirty, of Niagara Falls, and Isabelle Fisher, four, of that city, were both killed in auto wrecks.

Erie Handley, twenty-nine, Fort William, and Bruce Snider, Windsor, were killed when run over by trains.

John Vogt, Hamilton, died several hours after being crushed under a lumber pile.

Sandy had just come up to his girl at the end of the street, where she had been waiting for him. She was looking into a confectioner's when Sandy made his presence known by remarking: "Well, Jean what are ye going to have the night, some sweets or fruit?"

Surprised at her sweetheart's unexpected generosity, the girl replied: "I'll have both, if I may, Sandy."

So Sandy went into the shop and came out a minute later with a toffee-apple in his hand.
